

Exegesis Help

Researching for an exegesis project can be a difficult process, considering many books may be checked out or in use. Benner Library offers several resources helpful for finding electronic sources to avoid that situation.

Navigation

Step 1: Begin on Benner Library Home page, library.olivet.edu.

Step 2: Under the Subject Guides tab, click on Exegesis under Course Guides.

Step 3: Always check under Course Guides to see if your class or professor has a special page.

Step 4: Click on the Commentaries Subject Guide under Related Guides.

Online Commentaries

The Commentaries Subject Guide gives access to resources available online. Click on a commentary to begin a search.

Note: Be aware that every commentary brand does not specifically have every book of the Bible.

Atla Religion Database with AtlaSerials

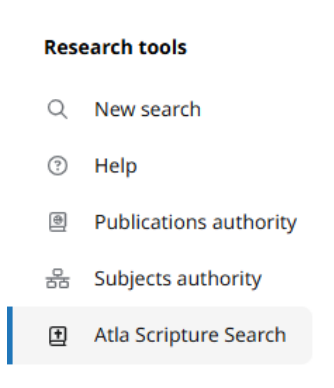

Atla is the premier database for School of Theology & Christian Ministry students to use when looking for scholarly articles and book reviews. This database can be found on the Theology Subject Guides page.

Scriptures / Kings, 1st

☐  Chapter 1

☐  Chapter 2

☒  Chapter 3

Note: Even if you are looking for a series of verses, we recommend that you ONLY choose the chapter at this point.

If you choose to type in the book you are searching for manually, make sure to use the Arabic number instead of searching with a Roman Numeral.
